

Latino Cultural Center Call for Workshop Series Proposals (LCC Talleres)

The Latino Cultural Center in Dallas is seeking proposals from artists, arts organizations, and cultural producers for educational programming at the LCC to take place between February and September 2026. Four (2-hour min) workshops are to be planned, each to be held on consecutive Saturdays. Up to $3,000 will be awarded for selected proposals.

These workshops aim to provide enriching educational experiences, fostering creativity and cultural engagement within the community. We are looking for programming that teaches community members artistic techniques and skills and/or emphasizes Latino cultural traditions. The LCC's mission is to create free programming accessible to all ages, backgrounds, and abilities.

The proposals must be structured as a series of four (2-hour minimum) workshops that can deliver tangible takeaways for participants or involve a collective effort to create a community focused project. Depending on the scope of the workshop, the time variation can be adjusted.

Eligibility: We welcome and encourage proposals from all interested parties with experience leading art workshops and lessons whether independently or with museums, and/or cultural or community venues alike.

Submission guidelines: Please submit a PDF or Slideshow with a minimum 150-word description, including your workshop breakdown and objectives, intended audience, proposed teaching artist(s) if applying as an organization, photo samples of previous work or intended artworks to be made and a material budget list. No hardcover proposals will be accepted.
